(c) whether three is any proposal to construct dormitory type of accommodation for migratory labour working there?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF URBAN DEVELOPMENT (SHRI DALBIR SINGH): (a) During the year 1986, 835 units were constructed by the Union Territory of Chandigarh under the scheme of the Houses for Economically Weaker Sections.

(b) As per the 1981 census, 4047 persons are without shelter in the Union Territory.

(c) No, Sir.

Bhikaji Cama Bazar, New Delhi

2927. SHRI M. KADHARSHA:

SARDAR JAGJIT SINGH: AURORA:

Will the Minister of URBAN DEVELOPMENT be pleased to state:

(a) whether Government had sometime back acquired land belonging to Sunlight Insurance Company Limited in village Mohammadpur, Munirka, Delhi now knows as Bhikaji Cama Bazar and acquisition notifications issued in this regard were declared null and void by the Courts;

(b) whether all such plot holders have been given alternative plots;

(c) whether there are still some plots of land in the Bhikaji Cama Place Commercial Complex which are owned by individuals if so, the manner in which the Government intend to deal with those plots and the plot-holders;

(d) whether Government proposes to acquire those plots of land situated in Bhikaji Cama Place Commercial Complex which have not yet been acquird under the Land Acquisition Act, if so, by when;

(e) if not, whether Government propose to permit the plot holders to construct buildings on their land as per the master plan;

(f) whether any of these plot holders have filed construction plans with the Ministry on the advice of the DDA and if so, whether the said plans have since been sanctioned by the Ministry; and

(g) if not what are the reasons for delay and by when these plans are likely to be sanctioned by the Ministry?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF URBAN DEVELOPMENT (SHRI DALBIR SINGH): (a) Yes, Sir.

(b) and (c) Out of 33 plot holders who applied for alternative plots, 30 have accepted the plots offered to them. Offers of alternative plots to the remaining three plot holders have also been made but the cases are yet to be finalised.

(d) In view of the reply above to Clauses (b) and (c), this question does not arise.

(e) to (g) The plots of land under reference now form part of the District Centre as per the Master Plan and this District Centre is being developed by the DDA. No building plans as per Building Byelaws have been submitted by the plot holders either to the Ministry or to the DDA. Moreover, in view of the position as aforesaid, the question of sanctioning any building plans of plot holders does not arise.
